

Barriers to Trade in Services in the CEFTA Region (World Bank Studies)

The Central European Free Trade Agreement (CEFTA) was concluded among the countries of Southeastern Europe with the aim to promote further trade integration. The agreement states the objective to expand trade in goods and services and foster investment by means of fair, clear, stable and predictable rules. While recent literature on trade in the CEFTA region has focused on analyzing trade in goods, the purpose of the paper is to identify the remaining barriers to trade in services among the CEFTA countries. The paper presents: (i) the economic and trade importance of the service sector in CEFTA countries, and (ii) the existing barriers to trade in services between CEFTA countries, with a focus on four sectors: construction, land transport, legal and information technology (ICT) services. The analysis shows that the export of services has a significant share in CEFTA countries. These countries have achieved considerable market openness, mostly in the context of pursuing WTO and EU accession. Nonetheless, obstacles to trade in services remain. Some, such as the movement of professional workers, are of general nature, while others are sector specific.

World Bank Studies are published to communicate the results of the Banks Barriers to trade in services in the CEFTA region / Borko Handjiski, Lazar Sestovic. World Bank Studies are published to communicate the results of the Banks Barriers to trade in services in the CEFTA region / Borko Handjiski, Lazar Sestovic. agenda in the CEFTA region has focused on how to make exports a greater component of sustained growth Recent studies provide evidence of the positive effects on tries and current barriers to trade in services between CEFTA countries. Countries of the Southeast Europe (SEE) region have witnessed significant economic to some of the remaining impediments to enhanced intra regional trade. on CEFTA and on trade related reforms in general through two case studies of World Bank. <https://handle/10986/5931> Barriers to Trade in Services in the CEFTA Region In CEFTA economies, export of services accounts for about 10 World Bank Studies Barriers to Trade in Services in the CEFTA Region (World Bank Studies) eBook: Borko Handjiski, Lazar Sestovic: : Kindle Store. Enhancing Regional Trade Integration in Southeast Europe Chapter three emphasizes the role of nontariff barriers (NTBs), such as technical sector on CEFTA and on trade related reforms in general through two case studies of regional firms. World Bank. <https://handle/10986/5931>: Barriers to Trade in Services in the CEFTA Region (World Bank Studies) (9780821387993) by Borko Handjiski Lazar Sestovic and a great World Bank Studies are published to communicate the results of the Banks work .. Figure 2.5 Trade in

Services Within the CEFTA Region, 200709 Average., World Bank Studies are published to communicate the results of the Banks Barriers to trade in services in the CEFTA region / Borko Handjiski, Lazar Sestovic. World Bank Studies are published to communicate the results of the Banks Barriers to trade in services in the CEFTA region / Borko Handjiski, Lazar Sestovic. Barriers to Trade in Services in the CEFTA Region (World Bank Studies): Borko Handjiski, Lazar Sestovic: : Books. Barriers to Trade in Services in the CEFTA Region is part of the World Bank Studies series. These papers are published to communicate the results of the Banks <https://handle/10986/5908> Countries of the Southeast Europe (SEE) region have witnessed significant Chapter three emphasizes the role of nontariff barriers (NTBs), such as sector on CEFTA and on trade related reforms in general through two case studies of . TRADE IN SERVICES. The third section describes general barriers to trade in services, and specific in Services in the CEFTA Region, World Bank Publications, The World Bank, The Central European Free Trade Agreement (CEFTA) was concluded among the countries of Southeastern Europe with the aim to promote further trade This paper describes the economic importance of the service sector in Central European Free Trade Agreement (CEFTA) countries and current Barriers to Trade in Services in the CEFTA Region In CEFTA economies, export of services accounts for about 10 World Bank Studies <https://handle/10986/5908> Countries of the Southeast Europe (SEE) region have witnessed significant Chapter three emphasizes the role of nontariff barriers (NTBs), such as sector on CEFTA and on trade related reforms in general through two case studies of . TRADE IN SERVICES. WESTERN BALKANS: Regional Economic Integration Issues Notes. World Bank Developing an Open and Integrated Research and Innovation Area. 59. 13. and access to services also improved during this period. .. policy-related barriers to trade stem mainly (CEFTA), which has the objective. Barriers to Trade in Services in the CEFTA Region World Bank Studies In CEFTA economies, export of services accounts for about 10 percent of GDP in non Barriers to Trade in Services in the CEFTA Region (World Bank Studies) - Kindle edition by Borko Handjiski, Lazar Sestovic. Download it once and read it on